Social Workers: Help Starts Here

My new calendar for 2009 is one published by the National Association of Social Workers. I love it because interspersed with stories about actual social workers are lists of the varied areas and populations that social workers work with:

- Mental Health
- Foster Care and Adoption
- Nursing Homes
- Military
- Prisons

- Genetics
- Teens
- Guardianship
- Advanced Care Planning
- Substance Use
- Criminal Justice

The last page of the calendar sums it up:

From senior centers to schools, hospitals to disaster relief, help is as close as a Social Worker. And this is their address. Learn more. Start here.

Katten & Benson is unique among elder law firms in the area because we have a social worker on staff. Kim works with our Life Care clients, but she is also available to assist if you have questions about nursing homes, home health, or any number of health care issues.

March is Social Work month, so if a Social Worker has helped you, be sure to take the time to say thank you.

Brenda Evans, Paralegal

Brenda S. Evans is the Katten & Benson Office Manager and a paralegal. She has worked for the firm almost since its inception and is the glue that holds our office together! Among Brenda's many responsibilities as Paralegal are billing, customer relations, and maintaining office records. Brenda has previously worked for two larger law firms in downtown Fort Worth, where she obtained her skills in file management and office procedures.

She has been married for 15 years to her husband, Jeff, and has one son, Zach. Jeff works for Jacobs Engineering, and Zach attends Milsap High School. Brenda has served as an officer for Garner Little Dribblers for six years, served on the Garner ISD PTO for seven years while serving as PTO president for the last four years. She has assisted with coaching with Little Dribblers basketball, baseball, soccer and softball. Brenda is currently a Booster Club member for Milsap High School.
